About the Artist

Sookoon Ang's (b. 1977, Singapore) work addresses both physical and metaphysical realms — the spaces in which we physically dwell and the interior space within us that is our spiritual, emotional, and imaginative world and questions how these reflect and have an effect on each other.

Ang graduated with an Honors Degree from the School of Visual Arts, New York. She exhibited in numerous international and local exhibitions and has participated in many coveted artist residencies, including the prestigious Rijksakademie van beeldende kunsten in Amsterdam and the International Studio & Curatorial Program, New York. She was also an invited artist at the Beijing International Art Biennale in 2008 and 2010. Her works have featured at Art Stage 2013, the Singapore Biennale 2013 as well as the Night Festival 2013.
